INFERENCE

- ❑ In summative, we all know the season was not really favorable for us to deliver as expected. Hence our hope is to have a bit of normalcy in the next season.
- ❑ The need to restructure our development model is critical for the next season, as it will now require a different approach to assist us in making a bigger impact in terms of grassroots development.
- ❑ I must also applaud few individuals who continue to invest their own resources and energy to do development in schools and in their communities. They are our volleyball heroes and need whatever support we can render them from both the association and federation levels.
- ❑ I would also wish to extend our gratitude as a federation to some association chairpersons and their ground forces for doing the best they can under difficult conditions, by making sure volleyball at club level remains competitive and attractive to mostly the youth. Thus I will request that we all pay attention to recommendations alluded to in our reports, which will basically assist us all to have a paradigm shift and be able to grow this beautiful game beyond.
- ❑ On this note, I request the entire NVF leadership to guard against those individuals elements who are trying to break the united NVF by trying to bring division among individuals, clubs and associations. NVF is one big family and we will need to remain united for only one purpose. #itsalifestyle
